Mr. Brad Decker:

Enclosed you will find our amended reports for Year End 2005 and April Quarterly 2006. It appears that the problem occurred when our last delivery to you containing both got mixed in together causing most of the problems listed in the FEC letter of May 26, 2006.

The missing addresses in our expenditures section for April 2006 reports were from gas stations where gas was purchased with our PAC debit card. We have done our best to locate these addresses for the FEC. In the case of the two small expenditures with One Avenue Networks, this is a website hosting company we worked with briefly. We have searched the web and placed several calls and e-mails to this company out of Florida but they have not provided us with a mailing address to date so we have written "best effort" on this listing in the April reports.

Please use the first five pages of our year end report to amend that report. The entire April report is also amended and included.

Thank you for your help in this matter. While we are unsure how the two sets of paperwork got mixed together, we apologize for any confusion on our part.

Kind Regards,

William Gheen
